Grand Celebration Washington.

Anniversary of the Founding of the Capitol.

Congress, the Cabinet and the Judiciary

Participate in the Exercises of Yesterday.

Civic and Military Parade-The Te Deum Hundred Fifteen Epeeches by President Cleveland and Others.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Another centennia anniversary, that of laying the cornerstone of the national capitol, was com-memorated this afternoon. One hundred years ago today George Washing ton, as Worshipful Master of Lodge 22 of Virginia, with Masonic rites, laid the corner-stone of the building, which, by slow stages for seventy-five years thereafter, grew into one of the most nagnificent structures of the world.

Washington on that occasion wore sash and apron woven by Lafayette's wife. The city then was a mere village, but, escorted by a small band of patriotic citizens and a troop of soldiery, the Father of his Country pro-ceeded from the White House, along Pennsylvania avenue to the east front of the capitol, over the same route taken today by President Cleve and and a great parade-official, civic and military. The procession, today, was led by Chief Marshal Ordway and staff, with a squadron of cavalry acting as escort to the President, followed by the orator of the day, William Wirt Henry, a descendant of Patrick Henry governors of various States, Chairman

A troop of the District Nations Guard brought up the rear as a further escort. Then, in the parade proper, came a division of civic societies and organizations; then a division composed of the Society of Cincinnati, Sons of the American Revolution, Aztec clubs, Veterans of the Mexican War, the Old Guard, Grand Army of the Republic, Sons of Veterans and National Rifles; then a division of United States regulars. District and visiting militia, and veteran firemen of the District and similar organizations. The streets were thronged with peo-ple, who cheered the President as he passed. Arriving at the capitol, the parade disbanded and the vast throng witnessed the ceremonies, including members of both houses of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet and other high digni-taries, who occupied places on the stand. The exercises began with music by the Marine Band; then Bishop Paret of Maryland offered a prayer and a chorus of 1500 voices sang a Te Deum, after which Chairman Gardner delivbrief address, succinctly sketch ing the remarkable growth and development of the United States during the past hundred years, closing by intro-ducing as chairman of ceremonies the worthy successor of Washington, the President of the United States, Grover Cleveland." The President was given a most enthusiastic greeting, and delivered a characteristic and appropriate tion the part assigned me on this occasion," said the President, "I cannot escape the sober reflection which these ceremonies suggest. Those who supose we simply engage in a commemor ation of the beginning of the magnificent structure devoted to important uses, overlook the most useful, im-proving lesson of the hour. We do, in-deed, celebrate the kaying of the corner-stone from which has sprung the splendid edifice whose grand proportions arouse the pride of every American citizen, but our celebration is chiefly valuable and significant because this edifice was designed and planned by great and good men as the place where the principles of free representative government should be developed in patriotic legislation for the benefit of a free people.

"If the representatives who have as-sembled to make laws for their fellow-countrymen forget their duty of broad, disinterested patriotism, and legislate in prejudice and passion in behalf of sectional and selfish interest, the time when the corner-stone of our capitol was laid and the circumstances surrounding it will not be worth commen-orating. The sentiments and tradi-tions connected with this structure and its uses belong to all the people of the land; they are most valuable reminders of patriotism in the discharge of public duty and of steadfastness in many struggles for the public good.

"They also furnish a standard by which our people may measure the con-duct of those chosen to serve them. inexorable application of this The inexorable application of this standard will always supply the proof that our countrymen realize the value of the free institutions designed and built by those who laid the cornerstone of their capitol, and that they appreciate the necessary constant, jealous watchfulness as a condition indispensable to the preservation of these institutions in purity and integrity.

ble to the preservation of these institutions in purity and integrity.

"I believe our fellow-citizens have no better, greater cause for rejoicing on this centennial than that those halls guard the sentiments and traditions that gather round this delebration; that, in days to come, those who shall again celebrate the laying of the corner-stone of their nation's capitol will find in the recital of our performance of public duty no less reason for enthusiasm and congratulation than we find in recalling the wisdom and virtue of those who preceded us."

The rugged, healthy glow in the President's cheeks and the firm, strong up-right pose of his bearing did much to allay any anxiety on the part of those who had been troubled about the rewho had been troubled about the re-cent rumors concerning the President's health, His voice was strong and pen-etrating, and his gestures were vigor-ous. This was especially the case when he turned full and fair on the assem-bled House and Senate and told them: "If the lawmakers ever forget their duty of broad and disinterested patriot-ism and legislate in prejudge and not ism and legislate in prejudice and pas-sion or in behalf of sectional and sel-fish interests, the time when the cor-ner-stone of our capitol was laid and the circumstances surrounding it will not be worth commemorating."

The added tone of defiance and warn-ing with which Cleveland said this and the ringing applause that greeted it gave a peculiar significance to his

At the conclusion of his remarks the President was cheered with redoubled vigor. Then the orator of the day, William Wirt Henry, delivered an address, in which he reviewed the growth of the country in territory, national strength and in influence on the gov-ernment of the nations of the world, He detailed the growth of the Capitol building beyond the foundations first laid, and the development of laws within its walls. The next speaker was Vice-President Stevenson, who spoke in behalf of the United States Senate, and was accorded a greeting as hearty as that given the President. He delivered a masterly and eloquent address, in which he reriewed the evidences of our greatness he spoke of the mighty names of states men who surrounded Washington wher the corner-stone was laid one hundred years ago, and of those who succeeded them in guiding the nation on its glo-rious destiny, predicted by the Father of the Nation.

Speaker Crisp followed on behalf of the House. He spoke briefly on the same general theme—the nation's greatness and the promise of continued existence. A chorus sang "The Heavens are Telling." Then Justice Henry Bill-ings Brewer, of the Supreme Court, spoke in behalf of the judiciary, giving history of the Supreme Court and couching on some of the famous names connected with the bar of the nation.

The concluding address was by M. W.

Parker of the commissioners of the District of Columbia. The assemblage District of Columbia. The assemblage was dismissed with a benediction

Thousands of people thronged the Capitol grounds tonight to hear the ringing of chimes of bells on the new Library building, and to attend the open-air concert by the Marine Band, and the grand charge of 1500 voices. and the grand chorus of 1500 voices The concert took place from the plat-form where the exercises of the after-noon were conducted. The east from of the capitol was beautifully lighted, and was a scene of the most pictur-esque character. The programme be-gan with the ringing of "America" on the chime-bells. Then the Marine Band played an overture, after which a grand character was sung. The programme was a lengthy one and concluded with the "Star-spangled Banner" by the chorus, the audience joining in the singing CATHOLICS AND MASONS.

Both Parties Withdraw from Participation is WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) As a consequence of some trouble between Catholic organizations and the Masonic lodges over the part to be taken in the cen-tennial celebration today by Cardinal Gibbons, both parties to the dispute withdrew entirely from participation.

The absence of Masonic lodges from the parade this afternoon was particularly noticeable, inasmuch as the laying of the corner-stone 100 years ago was solemnized under their auspices

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Senator Stewart of Nevada has introduced an amendment to the repeal bill, authorizing the President to invite the governments of Mexico, Central and South America, Hayti and San Domingo to join the United States in a conference in Wash-ington, four months after the passage of the set, to secure the adoption of a comment eliver dollar of not less than 359.91 grains, nor more than 333.13 pure silver, to be issued by each govern-ment, to be legal tender for all commercial transactions between all citizens and the American States; that the finding of delegates shall be bind-ing on the governments which sent them, and on an agreement being reached, the governments represented shall open mints to the unlimited coin-age of silver for the benefit of deposi-

Senator Peffer's resolution of in quiry as to whether legislation was necessary to prevent the interruption of interstate trains by robbers was taken up. It was under consideration when the adjournment was had to when the adjournment was nad to take part in the centennial ceremonies. A good deal of opposition was mani-fested to any action by the Federal government, and Senators Vest of Missouri and Dolph of Oregon were especially vigorous in their criticism of the tendency to appeal to Congress for relief in matters which rightfully were within the domain of the States.

IMPORTERS.

Arguments in Favor of a Reduction WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) The Ways and Means Committee listened to arguments of the representatives of a num ber of industries again today. John W. Stewart, representing importers of seal-plushes, declared that the present tariff is practically prohibitive, and has deprived the government of enormous revenue. The seal plushes made here are far inferior to the foreign article. Col. W. W. Dudley wanted the duty on mineral salts reduced, as they do not enter into competition with the American productions.

The Bombardment of Rio Resumed Yester day-The Governor-General of Canada Takes the Oath-The Maneuvers of the German Army.

By Telegraph to The Times. VIENNA, Set. 18.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) A newspaper published n Buda Pesth, Hungary, gives details of a plot to assassinate Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary. The story is to the effect that a Roumanian boy overheard two men discussing the plot. They were arranging to have spikes removed from rails at a certain point on the road over which the Emperor was to travel on his way to the army maneuvers, thus wrecking the train. In the confusion the conspirators would have killed the Emperor and

Having heard so much, the boy be came frightened, and ran and told his parents. After consulting, they informed the police, and an investigation developed the fact that spikes had recently been loosened. Thereupon the road was carefully guarded and inspected throughout, and arrangements were made to send a private engine in advance of every train. The boy and his parents were arrested and held as witnesses. One theory of the police is that it was caused by the anti-Austrian preaching of local pope of the village in Transylvania, in which the boy and parents reside, and where most of the inhabitants are Roumanians or oppressed Mag-yars. Another theory is that it was the result of the agitation of young Czechs, who have worked up an anti-German feeling and spread revolutionary ideas.

A TOWN CAPTURED.

The Maneuvers of the German Army at GUENS, Sept. 18.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) The maneuvers of the German army began today in the presnce of a most brilliant gathering of otable personages. The meeting is an specially important one, and will be onducted on a more extensive scale han even the recent great assemblage of German troops at Metz, which was riven extra significance by the presence of the Italian crown prince as a specia guest of Emperor William. The principal figures on the field today were the emperors of Austria and Germany. The Duke of Connaught and the King of Saxony watched the movements of the troops with the greatest interest. day by a cavalry division of the south ern army, which advanced from Styria and met a division of the northern army's cavalry, consisting of 4000 horse and three batteries, a few miles south of Guens. The northern forces were at first successful, but were finally driven back by the infantry in the force, which accompanied the southern division of cavalry. Twenty thousand soldlers of the southern army ad-vanced through Guens this afternoon, and occupied villages situated a mile north of the town. The engagement of the rival cavalry forces was intensely exciting. Several serious accidents occurred to cavalrymen in the various charges, and a number of officers and men were thrown from their horses and trampled LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) Sir Edward Grey, Associated Fress.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The State Department confidently expected some word from Minister Thompson at Rio today, but, up to a late hour tonight, nothing had been heard from him.

BROKE THE BLOCKADE. The Insurgent Battleship Republic Gets Away

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) A dispatch dated yesterday, was received tonight by a London firm, and says the representa-tive foreign banks have decided not to open until the crisis is ended. The new battle-ship Republic, which joined the insurgent fleet on Sunday, forced a pas-cleared the Bay of Rio, after a severe encounter with the government forts. She is probably bound for Santos, with the object of blocking the southern ports.

The other vessels of the insurgent fleet are expected to follow the Republic at an early date. The city of Rio was bombarded again at an early hour Sunday morning. It is now regarded certain that a combined attack on the southern ports of Brazil will be made as soon as the vessels of the revolutionists can be assembled.

Advices from Montevideo That Peixotto Must Eventually Succumb.
MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 18.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) It is not known here yet whether Rio has been taken by the revolters, or whether the bom bardment has ceased. All correspondence with Brazil is cut off by the pos-tal authorities. Passengers who reached here by the steamer Magdalena say that when they left the city it was in a state approaching a panic. The rebels were attacking fortified points on the bay shore and all ports, except Santa Cruz, either neutral or favorable to Admiral Mello. There was much confusion and lack of discipline in the army, though it was nominally faithful to President Peixotto.

army, though it was nominally faithful to President Peixotto.

The latest news received here is to the effect that the rebel warships Quidaban, Premier Marzo and Republica steamed outside of the harbor on Saturday, intending to make for Santos. The general opinion of the Magdalena's passengers is that Peixotto must succumb, unless foreign powers interfere in his behalf. The captain of the Magdalena says that Rio is practically in a state of anarchy. The editor of the Rio Herald, a Spaniard, was brutally murdered by army officers owing to his outspoken support of Mello. The Brazilian gunboat which has been stationed at Santos, and which for some time remained faithful to Peixotto, has at last joined the rebel navy.

Eight Persons Killed and Many are Injured.

Special is Sent to the Scene With Physicians—The Wounded Taken to Chicago-Some of the Latter Will Die.

By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, Sept. 18 .- (By the Associated Press.) Seven persons were killed and sixteen injured in a tail-end collision on the Big Four road near Kankakee tonight. The first section of a special passenger train which left

Chicago early in the evening, had stopped, for some unknown reason, at Manteno, and the second section, coming in at full speed, crashed into the rear end.

A wrecking-train was sent Kankakee as soon as possible, and the dead and injured are now being brought to Chicago, where they will arrive about 3 o'clock. It is impossible to obtain further details until the arrival of the special train. Later.-The wrecked train was the first section of the Big Four express for Cincinnati, which, owing to a crowd of travel, was running tonight in three sections. These were five minutes apart. The last car on the first section was a sleeper with no passengers, and it is stated, now (2:45 a.m.,) that no red lights were hung on its rear platform. The first section had been stopping at Manteno but a few minutes, when the second section came along and crashed into it, driving the empty sleeper into the coaches ahead.

It is now known that eight were killed. but the only one identified so far is David Jackson, of Cynthiana, Ky. Of the injured a number will die The names of some of them are as follows: ALBERT J. SCHOLTER of Rip-

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Mrs. Minnie C. Rankin, the wife of Alfred A. Rankin of Wayland, Trask & Co., Wall street, is suing James R. Keene, the well-known stock operator, for $290,000. She claims that $100,000 was given to Keene in 1884 by W. H. Vanderbilt to hold in trust for her, and that he has never repaid any part of the money. The remainder of the amount asked for she claims to have earned in the services of Keene between 1883 and 1889. Keene, in answer, denies the existence of any trust in favor of Mrs. Rankin or that he owes her any money for services.

A CONTESTED WILL. Testimony Concerning the Disappearance Dr. Tynan Last October.

MODESTO Sept. 18.—(By the Associ-ated Press.) In the Tynan contest over the probate of his will, much interest-ing testimony has been taken. It has been shown, by an overwhelming weight of evidence, that the railroad ticket, upon which it was rumored he had gone to New York, bears a signa-ture not written by him, and that he, therefore, did not purchase it. It was shown today that he took lunch at the Popular restaurant, on Geary street, San Francisco, on October 17, 1892, leaving the restaurant at about 1:30 o'clock

The party who bought the ticket referred to is known to have left Sacra-mento at 11.30 on the same day. Here mento at 11.30 on the same day. Here there are two indisputable reasons why it was not Dr. Tynan who went East on this ticket. The stories by Hallett, who reported that Dr. Tynan is in Utah, are so inconsistent as to be in-reddible.

The evidence has been concluded, and the argument of the case will begin to-morrow morning. It is expected that the verdict of the jury will be in favor of probating the will.

By Telegraph to The Times.

HANCOCK (Mich.,) Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) The entire $70,-000 secured by the trainrobbers on the Mineral Range Railroad on the way to pay off employees of the Calumet and Hecla mines has been recovered. After securing the booty the robbers put it in a small trunk and sent it by one of their number, dressed as a miner, to Houghton. He induced the baggageman of the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic road to check it through for him for the consideration of 50 cents. It is not known whether the latter was aware of its contents. The officers learned of the transaction, took a special train and overhauled it some distance from Houghton. They recov-ered the entire sum. It has become LATER ADVICES. CALUMET (Mich.) Sept. 18.—George Lalliberty, a locomotive fireman, lately discharged from the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway, has been arrested. He is supposed to be the man who handled the throttle on the engine at the time of the train robbery, Friday. He is claimed to have made confession implicating King and his companions and Express Messenger Hogan. Lalliberty told the officers that the stolen money was contained in the trunk which he shipped from Houghton to Marquette on Saturday morning.

Washout Related a Santa Pa Overland Train-Carrying the War to San Francisco-Local Notes-Scrap Heap.

There was yellow chalk on the sleeves of several people who inquired about rates yesterday in the ticket offices of the Southern Pacific and connecting lines, proving that they had brushed against the Santa Fe's bulletin board. The inquiries were not very numerous, and the passengers who bought the $65 tickets were few. There numerous, and the passengers who bought the $65 tickets were few. There are not many left who will pay even that amount to go to Chicago, though some anxious ones are hoping that the rate will be slaughtered even more. It was said at the Santa Fe offices that the rate to go into effect today would simply meet that of the Southern Pacific. The Southern Pacific carrying the war into the South changed the Santa Fe's proposed campaign. If the former road had been able to cut the rate from Southern California by the Ogden route the Santa Fe would have persisted in quoting a rate at least $4 lower than its rival's. The refusal of connecting lines east of Ogden to pro rate on the cut spoiled that fight. The Santa Fe is so quiet over the matter now that it is considered to be but the calm that precedes a greater storm. That company is not anxious to make east-bound rates too low, but wants to make a rate west-bound that will double the population of this Southern country. While the Southern Pacific will seek to carry the bulk of travel to San Francisco for the fair, the Santa Fe will try to bring the people to a section where they can ride on the Kite-shaped track any day in the year.

Unity Club Election At a meeting of the Unity Club last evening at the Unity Church the followlng officers were elected for the ensu-ing year: William H. Knight, president; C. W. Patterson, first vice-president; Franklin Jordan, second vice-presi-dent; S. A. Butler, treasurer; T. J. Cooper, secretary.

A full programme was prepared for the coming lecture season. Meetings will take place every Wednesday evening, commencing October 4. Admission will be free, as during last year.

Chilly Fresno? Chilly Fresno?

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a rather amusing letter from Coffax, Southern Illinois. The writer wishes maps and other information in regard to Southern California, as several families are waiting to locate near the coast. But it is the opinion of some of them that so far south in California it is too hot for Central Illinois people, and they think they prefer to go to Fresno.

Tommy Ocampo was arrested last night on Spring street and booked at the station for disturbing the peace. He, in company with two men named L. B. Campher and Archie Priest, were engaged in a fistic controversy, as a result of which Priest received a very bad looking eye, after which Officer Conley escorted the offender in.

Arrested for Stealing.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex..) Sept. 18.—
Charles Rudd, alias Charles Raymond, a cowboy who has been employed on ranches in Presidio county for the past two years, has been arrested by Sher-iff Campbell of St. Johns, Ariz. He is wanted for horse-stealing, and it is al-leged that he is a notorious criminal. Rudd's parents are wealthy and live near Springville, Ariz.

KRUG CAUGHT.

The Absconding Treasurer of Seattle Arrested at St. Louis.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Adolph Krug, the alleged defaulting City Treasurer of Seattle, was arrested at the Union Seattle, was arrested at the Union depot here this evening, just as he was about to take the cast-bound Omaha train for Chicago. The arrest was effected by Frank Crawford of Seattle. Krug was taken to the Mer Seattle. Krug was taken to the Merchants' Hotel for the night.

The Mayor of Seattle was telegraphed, and wired Crawford to hold the prisoner at all hazards. Krug, when arrested, had $92 on his person. After fieeing Seattle, he went to Winnipeg, where he spent three days and then came to St. Paul.

BLOWN TO PIECES.

Six Men Killed by a Boiler Explosion Yesterday.

CONLON (N. C.,) Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) Near Whittier, to-day, the boiler of Keeley's sawmill exploded. The mill was wrecked and six men were killed, Richard Nichols, James Keeley, Ben McMahon, Gates McMahon, Jesse Gunter and Henry Smith. The bodies were blown to

A LYNCHING FOILED.

Militia Save a Colored Rape Piend from a Mob.

RICHMOND (Va.,) Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press.) A mob this morning attempted to lynch Charles Allen, white woman. The militia was called out to defend the jail. Tonight the mob gained recruits, and a collision is feared.

FOURTEEN DROWNED.

The Schooner Senator Frye from Gloucester, Mass., Lost.
HALIFAX (N. S.,) Sept. 18.—(By the Associated Press. A barrel-head with a message written on it was picked up at the mouth of the harbor. It says that he schooner Senator Frye from Gloucester, Mass., has been lost and a crew of fourteen were all drowned.

WANTED TO BE THROWN OFF.

But a Boozy Man Prefers to Land in a Cool Spot in the River.

(Detroit Free Press.) There was a tipsy man on the Gratiot-avenue car the other day.

He entered the car with his hat in his hand, and as he sat down with rivulets of water pouring down his face, he looked across at the man with a gripsack and asked:

"Did you ever make a fool of yourself by getting tight on a hot day?"

"No, sir," was the declaive reply.

"Good man! Look at my condition!

Got tight and lost my handkerchief, while the thermom. stands at 92 degs. in the shade I stand at 200 degs. Couldn't lend me your handkerchief?"

"No, sir."

"No, sir!"
"Just so! If you was me and I was you, I'd see you wilt first. Nobody any bizness to get drunk on a hot day Don't look much like a howlin' swell do I?"

Don't look much like a howlin' swell, do 1?"

"Not a bit."

"Thanks. You are an honest, sober man, you are, and you are no liar. I'm not a howlin' swell. Here, conductor, come in here."

"What do you want, sir?" demanded that official, as he entered.

"Is this the refrigerator car?"

"No, sir!"

"Good boy! I knew it wasn't, but wanted to see if you would lie about it. Got any ice water for benefit passengers?"

"No, sir!"

"Carry any handkerchiefs to benefit poor and sufferin' passengers?"

"No, sir!"

"No, sir!"
"Any fans for sale?"
"No, sir!"
"Don't seem to have the convenien public at heart. Public Can't I stop and get fan?" "You must keep quiet, sir!"
"If I don't you'll throw me off, eh?

"If I don't you'll throw me off, eh?"
"Yes, sir!"
"Do you run to river?"
"It do."
"Will you have the kindness to throw me off when we get there and throw me into the river in some shady spot? Please pick out cool spot—cool, breezy spot, and if it wouldn't be asking too much, I'd like to have you hold me under water bout fifteen minutes till I get thoroughly damp. That's all, conductor. Like to meet man like you. Like to be thrown off. Like to see man havin' my best interest at heart on hot day. Ta-ta, conductor. River — throw — cool—spot—see you later!"

One Side of Bvrnes's Character.

One Side of Byrnes's Character.

(New York Press.) The rumor that Superintendent Byrnes was to resign has only brought out more forcibly than ever the tremendous political influence of this man. He is one of the few New Yorkers whose personal 'backing' is as strong among the upper crust of society as it is with the political class. His intimacy with the Astors, Vanderbilts, Sloans and McAllister is a matter of note. Yet he never frequents their haunts. They respect him, that is all. That the criminal classes fear and detest him has become so well-known that everyone loses sight of the efforts he constantly makes to redeem fallen characters. Two respectable business men in New York were once hard cases, and Byrnes accomplished the transformation that has made them what they are. The criminal who is really tired of his ways has a friend in the police ruler of New York. The unhappy relatives of evil-doers he is always considerate to. Many a mother whose boy has been drifting downward finds, upon application to the superintendent, that he will do all he can to bring the youth to reason. Moreover, when the father of a shady young man had spent all his money trying to defend his son and the latter had to go to jail, Mr. Byrnes helped the old gentleman to employment, and now befriends him in every way. No wonder the resignation talk raised a chorus in New York.

(Philadelphia Record:) The human body is constantly undergoing tissue change. Water has the power of in body is constantly undergoing tissue change. Water has the power of increasing these tissue changes, which multiply the waste products, but at the same time they are renewed by its agency, giving rise to increased appetite, which in turn provides fresh nutriment. Persons but little accustomed to drink water are likely to have the waste products formed faster than they are removed. Any obstruction to the free working of natural laws at once produces disease. People accustomed to rise in the morning weak and languid will find the cause in the secretion of wastes, which many times may be remedied by drinking a full tumbler of water before retiring. This materially assists in the proces during the night, and leaves the tissues fresh and strong, ready for the active work of the day. Hot water is one of the best remedial agents. A hot bath on going to bed, even in the hot nights of summer, is a better reliever of insomnia than many drugs.

Telephones as Weather Prophets.

A citizen of Richmond, Ind., has discovered a new method by which a telephone will foretell storms, and his invention is to be put to practical use. By placing two iron bars a short disnee from each other, and then putting them in communication on one side with a copper wire covered with rubber and on the other side with a telephone, a storm can be predicted at least twelve hours ahead through a dead sound heard in the receiver. According as the storm advances, the sound resembles the beating of large halistones against the windows. Every flash of lightning and every clap of thunder produces a shock similar to that of a stone cast between the disphragm and the instrument

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY. The Olive Oil-Sardine Industry—The Wild
Man at it Again.
The olive-oil industry is firmly established in this county. Our magnificent exhibit at the World's Fair shows that we can produce a superior quality of the oil, and the large sale and foreign the oil, and the large sale and foreign shipment proves our pickled olives to be of the very best kind. In connection with the olive-oil industry, why would it not be feasible for some one to start a sardine cannery here? The sardines which at certain seasons of the year run in immense schools in the channel are of fine flavor and good size. When cooked in boiling oil, as the imported sardines are, they cannot be told apart. Numerous experiments and calculations have been made which demonstrate that not only could such be told apart. Numerous experiments and calculations have been made which demonstrate that not only could such an industry be established, but that it would be a very profitable one. These would also give employment to many laborers, not only in the factory itself, but also in catching the fish, and in taking care of the new orchards which the increased demand for the olive oil would cause to be set out. The southern exposure of the Santa Barbaracoast is excellently adapted for oliveralising, and in the interior of the county, around Santa Ynez and Los Olivos (the olives.) are to be found apine trees and well-developed olives as any exhibited at the World's Fair. The sardine-olive-oil combination is certainly feasible. It only remains for some one to have the nerve and capital to start it up, and scores of people will be wondering why they didn't think of it before.

Santa Cruz Island Company, is in the city, looking after his property interests here.

John Murray, formerly of this city, but now of San Francisco, has just arrived after a trip on foot from the latter place down the coast. He averaged thirty miles a day.

The plans for the building which the company of Barbarenos is going to exect for the Midwinter Fair and occupy with a seal and seal lion exhibit are completed, and the building will be very handsome and attractive if erected in accordance with the plans. It will take some forty thousand gallons of water to fill the tank for the marine monsters.

The case of R. M. Dillard vs. Clarence Pierce, which was appealed from Justice Crane's court, comes on in the Superior Court soon. Judge Dillard demanded a drawn jury, but the court refused to grant the request.

Several cases have been set for trial by the Superior Court. The case of William Nandell vs. Pauline Peterson, a land suit, will be tried October 39. Judge Cope set the case of Louis G. Drey fus vs. David W. Badger for trial on September 25. Mrs. Helen Borenheim has brought suit to foreclose a mortgage against the Salzman estate.

Some contemptible, whose identity is, luckily for himself, unknown, has started in again to furnish a weekly column of scandal from Santa Barbara for a disreputable San Francisco publication called the World. Suspicion points very strongly to a certain party here, and, in the language of the boys, "he had better let "o" before some irate subject of his libelous articles makes a fit subject for the hospital out of the mud-slinger.

Police Commissioners.

Police Commissioners.

The Police Commission will meet at 9 o'clock this morning. Beyond the usual routine, it is expected that the only matter of especial interest to be considered is the question of the revocation of the license for the "Basket" saloon, conducted on Alameda street by Jean Rappet. This matter has been deferred at the two or three last meetings, and it is thought that some action may be taken on it today.

There has been a great deal of gossip and talk during the week, and it is more than probable that the session will be a lively one.

Mr. Huntington, of the Southern Pacific Company, has given the pleasing assurance that his corporation intends to pay the back taxes which owes to the State, and to some of the counties. Los Angeles is one of these counties.

Coming from an ordinary individual such a remark would not create any particular surprise. It would be taken more or less as a matter of course that the taxpayer would pay what he owed, or else would lose his property. With the Southern Pacific Company (of Kentucky) it is quite different, however. That institution, as we all know, is a law unto itself. When, therefore, it saw fit to refuse for so many years to pay the taxes that were assessed against it, the present generation of Californians evinced less surprise than they do now, when Huntington makes the announcement that his company will "pungle

It should be remembered that the courts and the Legislature have considerably scaled down the amounts payable by the great railroad corpora Also, that competition and independence are in the air. facts may account in some measure for the change of base on part the railroad. The company's tax agent says his company could beat the ment) law in the courts, but that they will not try it. He adds Southern Pacific is tired of being the lower plank in political platforms and is anxious to effect a settlement.

the company could beat th law in the courts, few who have watched its career during the past quarter of a century will doubt. But possibly, this beating of the law, with all the procured corruption which it entails, has cost the company a good deal more than a compliance with the would have cost it, in hard cash, not to mention the respect of the people. Possibly, a realization of this fact is beginning to dawn upon the heads of the Southern Pacific Company. It is a great pity that they did not think of this before they began that career of wholesale debauchery of legislatures and corruption of courts which has made California politics a reproach throughout the land. Whether deathbed repentance comes in time to insure forgiveness on part of the people remains to be seen. They will first want to be sure that the enemy has dropped his club, before they disarm themselves.

Golden Sands.

If it is true that the new invention San Francisco man will extract gold from black sand at a cost of only $1 a ton, California will soon again become a great gold-producing State. This black sand is found side by side with the ordinary seashore sand all along this coast, from San Diego to Alaska, as well as in many other parts of the world, invariably, however, more or less close to the banks of large rivers, seas and oceans. The great has been to extract the gold. It exists in the most minute particles, varying in quantity from $2.50 to $30 to the ton of sand. It is always associated with other minerals and metals, such as iron, and is all but invariably covered with a thin film of magnesium.

The inventor, who has spent six years in study and $10,000 to perfect his discovery, claims that he has taken out from $5 to $10 a ton steadily at a cost of about $1 a ton. He says that two men can easily handle $10 of sand a day, and, as it is found in such great abundance, there is neither much la bor nor cost in getting it. So many inventions of this character have been tried and have proven failures that further evidence of the efficacy of the present plan would be required before much confidence will be reposed in it. If, however, the invention will do what claimed for it, there would be a fine chance for a few companies to organlze to put 10,000 of our unemployed men at work along the sea beach.

Us at the Fair.

It seems to be generally admitted by those who have visited Chicago that, as far as the California display is concerned, whether in the State or the Horticultural building, it is a case of Southern California first, and the rest nowhere. This is the more compli-mentary, because of the $300,000 which the State had to expend at the World's Fair, the southern counties only re-

Again, Southern California, through Its World's Fair Association, recently published a pamphlet for distribution at the Fair, costing $8000, the greater part of which was covered by advertise-ments from local business men. The State also recently published a pam-phlet, for which the Legislature voted the large sum of $25,000. Here is what an unprejudiced and disinterested journal-the Irrigation Age, published at Denver-has to say in regard to these

It looked as though Prof. King would be unable to start, but finally he suggested postage worth of unused stamps, including a choice assortment of all values, and the stamps intrusted to Mr. King. Thus, without draining the country of cash, the World's Fair expense problem was satisfactorily solved.

An appropriation was voted of $5000

Prof. King accordingly set out for America. He went to Philadelphia to meet the Liberian Consul there, William E. Rothery, who was made a joint commissioner.

Mr. King's idea was to dispose of his supply of stamps to dealers or col-

Mr. King's idea was to dispose of his supply of stamps to dealers or collectors at their face value. He soon found that it was not as easy as was expected to convert the prettily engraved Liberian stamps into United States greenbacks, and many weary days were spent in fruitless endeavors to place them.

The dealers had some on hand and the demand was not great enough to induce them to purchase an extra large supply.

As the dealers in Philadelphia wouldn't take the stamps Mr. King turned toward the New York dealers. Several were applied to in vain, and the World's Fair commissioner began to think he had almost as big an elephant on his hands as the one depicted on the 4-cent Liberian stamp. One firm at last consented to relieve the commissioner, and made an advance of $2000 to him.

The postage stamps used for this novel purpose are now on sale in a Twenty-third-street shop. They come from a London bank-note company, and are very handsomely engraved and artistic in design.

The set includes twelve varieties of these values—1, 2, 4, 6, 8, 12, 16, 24, and 32 cents; $1, $2, and $5. They are of the 1892 issue, when the Liberian President was J. Hillary Johnson, whose picture figures on the 8-cent and $5 stamps.

"Margie," he cried, "I will explain—I will—"
She shook her head dolefully, causing the tears to fail upon the roses in her lap like the summer dew.
"I will explain," he continued. "They are 10-cent cigars, but, beloved, by smoking seven a day, I get a discount from the dealer, and they cost me only 8 cents each, so I save $51.10 a year by that method."

She looked at him a moment and then laid her head on his shoulder. "Henry," she whispered, "you are economical after all."

THE HIGHBINDERS

Are Included in the Term "Chinese Laborers."

Judge Ross's Clear Decision on the Subject.

Arrests to the Crim-

The anxiously-awaited decision by Judge Ross of the question whether a Chinese gambler was a laborer under the exclusion act was rendered yester

Quite a crowd turned up in the morn ing, but it was not until the afternoon syssion that the opinion was handed down. Promptly at two o'clock the court was opened, and Judge Ross immediately began to read from type-written manuscript the following:

THE OPINION.

The complaint is the core charges.

THE OPINION.

The complaint in this case charges the defendant with a violation of the sixth section of the act of Congress of May 5, 1892, commonly called the Geary act. It alleges that the defendant was at the time of the passage of the act a Chinese laborer within the limits of the United States and entitled to remain therein, and that he failed to procure the certificate of residence required by its sixth section of all such resident Chines laborers, amd that he resident Chines laborers, and that he was found after one year from its passage without such certificate within the jurisdiction of the United States, and within this judicial district.

The evidence in the case clearly shows that the defendant is, and has been for several years last past, a

The evidence in the case clearly shows that the defendant is, and has been for several years last past, a gambler, engaged in conducting games of chance in this city. In other cases submitted with the present one the evidence shows that the defendants, in addition to being gamblers, belong to the criminal class commonly called "highbinders." The sixth section of the act in question applies alone to "Chinese laborers within the limits of the United States at the time of the passage of this act, and who are entitled to remain in the United States." The question to be determined is: What is the true construction of the words "Chinese laborer" as here used by Congress? Etymologically, a laborer is one who labors. In that broad sense a practicing playsician is a laborer, and a hard one, too. So, also, is the practicing lawyer. In that sense the professional journalist is a laborer, as is, also, every minister of the gospel. In the same sense every merchant is a laborer. But in neither speech nor writing is such the common or ordinary acceptance of the term "laborer." Worcester thus defines it: "One who labors; one regularly employed at some hard work; a workman; an operative—often used of one who gets a livelihood at coarse manual labor as distinguished from an artisan or professional man." And the definition given by Webster is to the same effect.

tisan or professional-man." And the definition given by Webster is to the same effect.

Neither of these considerations furnishes, in my opinion, a true solution of the question. Undoubtedly a gambler is not a laborer in the ordinary and popular meaning of that term; nor is a "highbinder," whose avocation is understood to be the commission of any and every species of crime. In the act in question Congress did not define the terms "Chinese laborers" as employed by it. To ascertain the true meaning of the words so used the purpose of the act must be considered. As its sixth section, providing, as it does, for the expulsion from this country of all Chinese laborers within it at the time of the passage of the act who should fail to comply with its, provisions, whether they came here at the invitation of our government or otherwise, in its stringency went far beyond the provisions of the existing treaties between the two countries, it would be altogether unreasonable to hold that the words "Chinese laborers" in that very section of the act were used in any narrower sense than were the same words in the treaty under which Congress was legislating. It is pertinent and important, therefore, to inquire what is the scope of those words in that treaty.

Under the treaty of 1868, known as the Burlingame treaty, as construed in practice, the Chinese had the abso-

Under the treaty of 1868, known as the Burlingame treaty, as construed in practice, the Chinese had the absolute right to come in any numbers to the United States. The trouble caused by the influx of them induced the United States government to ask, through a commission composed of Messrs. James B. Angell, John F. Swift and William Henry Trescot, that the Chinese government consent to such a modification of the Burlingame treaty as would enable it, without raising unpleasant questions of treaty treaty as would enable it, without raising unpleasant questions of treaty construction, to regulate, limit, suspend, or prohibit Chinese immigration. Commissioners on the part of China were also appointed, and after the necessary preliminary negotiations the United States commissioners made to the Chinese commissioners the following proposition:

"To indicate more precisely the wishes of the United States, we suggest the following proposition for the consideration of the Chinese government:

consideration of the Chinese government:

"Article 1. The United States of America and the Emperor of China recognize the mutual benefit which results from the proper intercourse of the citizens and subjects of all nations, and, in order to encourage such intercourse between the two countries, agree that citizens of the United States visiting or residing in China and subjects of China visiting or residing in the United States for the purpose of trade, travel or temporary residence, for the prosecution of teaching, study, or curiosity, shall enjoy in the respective countries all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions which are granted by either country to the cifizens and subjects of the most favored nations.

granted by either country to the cifizens and subjects of the most favored nations.

"Art. 2. Whenever, in the opinion of the government of the United States, the coming of Chinese laborers is the United States or their residence therein affects, or threatens to affect, the interest of that country, or to enflanger the good order of the said country, or of any locality within the territory thereof, the government of the United States may regulate, limit, suspend, or prohibit such coming or residence, after giving timely notice of such regulation, limitation, suspension, or prohibition to the government of China, and the words 'Chinese laborers' are herein used to signify all inimigration other than that for teaching, trade, travel, study and curiosity hereinbefore referred to and authorized and provided for in existing treaties.

"Art. 2. But it is distinctly understood between the contracting parties that all Chinese subjects who, under the faith of existing treaties, have gone into or are now residing in the United States, shall be guarantéed all the protection, rights, immunities and exemptions to which they are now en-

United States, shall be guaranteed all the protection, rights, immunities and exemptions to which they are now entitled under the provision of said treaties." (Foreign Relations of the United States, 1881, page 177)

On the 22d of October, 1889, the Chinese commissioners submitted to the commissioners submitted to the commissioners of the United States a memorandum in reply, which, so far as it refers to article 2 of the proposition of the United States commissioners, is as follows:

"Section 2 declares that there are difficulties growing out of the emigration of Chinese laborers to the United States, and explains that the words of the propose of teaching, study, for the purpose of teaching, study, trade, travel and curiosity. The separation of this class from the mass of the subjects of China is not in strict accord with the spirit of our treaties, and in practical operation would meet with many difficulties. But, bearing in mind the deep friendship between the two governments, in the event of embarrassments on either part, a solution must be sought in a spirit of mutual concession." (Id., page 178.)

At a conference of the commissioners of the two countries held October 23, 1880, the Chinese commissioners submitted to the United States commissioners the project of a treaty, article 2 of which was in these words:

"Chinese who may be desirous of proceeding to any other part of the United States for purposes of labor, excepting only the State of California, shall be allowed to go of their own free will and accord; persons of all other classes, with the exception of actual Chinese laborers, whose immigration into California will be temporarily regulated and limited by the United States, whether proceeding to California as teachers, students, travelers, traders, or artisans, as well, as all Chinese laborers now in the State, will be allowed to go and come with entire freedom, and will not be included in the limiting regulations." (Id., page 186.)

In reporting that conference to the Secretary of State, Mr. Evarts, the entire freedom, and will not be included in the limiting regulations." (Id., page 186.)

In reporting that conference to the Secretary of State, Mr. Evarts, the United States commissioner, under date of November 3, 1889, said, among other things, that the proposition, being in Chinese, "We could only gather its general purport from a rapid translation by Mr. Holcombe. Mr. Trescot, on behalf of the commissioners that we would take it into consideration, but that we could and ought to say at once that there were some points which were inadmissible, and could not be received by us even for consideration. The first was the limitation of the provision of the treaty to Chinese immigration into California. To this the Chinese commissioners replied that such was not their intention, but as they had been led to suppose from all they heard, that objection to such immigration existed chiefly, if not only, in California, they had suggested this form in order that its discussion might lead to a better understanding.

"Another point was the exclusion of the point was the exclusion of the received of the content of the provision of the treaty to the content of the content

"Another point was the exclusion of 'artisans' from the class of Chinese labor whose immigration was forbidden by the proposed provisions. In reference to this Mr. Trescot stated that it was an inadmissable limitation upon that definition of Chinese labor which had been suggested by the United States commissioners.

"It was deemed best by the United States commissioners," continues the report, "not to do more at this interview than signify their great disappointment at the scope and tenor of the Chinese project, and to reserve a full review of its provisions until it had been translated." (Id., p. 182)

Subsequently the United States commissioners submitted to the Chinese standing.

missioners submitted to the Chinese commissioners a counter-project, articles 1 and 2 of which are as follows:

1 and 2 of which are as follows:
"Article 1. Whenever, in the opinion of the United States, the coming of Chiness laborers to the United States, or there residence therein, affects or within the territory thereof, the government of the United States may regulate, limit, or suspend such coming or residence, and the words 'Chinese laborers' are herein used to signify all immigration other than that for teaching, trade, travel, study and curiosity. "Art. 2. Chinese subjects, whether proceeding to the United States for purposes of teaching, study, travel, curiosity or trade, with their body-servants, shall be allowed to go and come with entire freedom," (Id., page 187.

The United States commissioners accompanied this last proposition with a memorandum, in which they said, among other things:

"The United States commissioners feel it their duty to insist upon their definition of Chinese laborers, viz.: "The words Chinese laborers are herein used to signify all immigration other than that for teaching, trade, travel, study and curiosity, hereinbefore referred to and provided for in existing treaties.' They cannot consent that artisans shall be excluded from the class of Chinese laborers, for it is this very compatition of skilled labor in the cities where the Chinese labor immigration concentrates which has caused the embarrassment and popular discontent they wish to avoid. But they are willing to adopt an article providing that the classes who are authorized to come to and reside in the United States shall bring the servants who are necessary to their convenience." Institution of a New Lodge—All-night Excises.

The transfer of Orr Lodge, No. 315, I.O.O.F., from Westminster to Whittier, was successfully accomplished Saturday evening. Odd Fellows from Los Angeles. Riverside, Pomona, Chino, Santa Ana, Downey, Azusa, Monrovia, Santa Monlea, Riveria. South Riverside, to the number of about two hundred and fifty, arrived at 7:45 o'clock on a special train, and were met at the depot by the Whittier Odd Fellows as the train pulled into the station. Music by the Reform School Band of twenty pieces greeted the ears of the visitors, and amid cheers of welcome, and the strains of music, a procession was formed and in a body they marched to the schoolhouse, where, after a brief rest, the work of making Odd Fellows commenced. At 1:30 a.m., a banquet was served in the lower rooms of the building by the wives and friends of the Whittier brethren, to which ample justice was done by the hungry visiting brothers. The work was then continued, and at 4 a.m. Whittier had a lodge of Odd Fellows that they can well be proud of. From then on until daylight the time was passed in singing and talking, impromptu speeches being made for the purpose of keeping the hoys awake. As soon as it was light enough, a rush was made for the Reform School, and the visiting Odd Fellows, for the most part, saw for the first time, the joy and pride of Whittier. At 6 a.m., the buglers came out, and soon the building was alive with the boys hurrying down to wash, prior to getting breakfast; at 6:30 they formed by companies in the yard, and marched in military order to the dining-room. Dr. Lindley then came out and invited the brothers in to breakfast, which invitation was gladly accepted by nearly a hundred, they then registered and looked over the building. At 8 a.m. the hand from the school came over to the depot and serenaded the brothers as the train pulled out. On the train a resolution, signed by all the visiting Odd Fellows, passed unanimously, extending thanks to Dr. abuse.

"Art. 2. Chinese subjects, whether proceeding to the United States a teachers, students, merchants, or from curiosity, together with their body and teachers, students, merchants, or from curiosity, together with their body and household servants, and Chinese laborers who are now in the United States, shall be allowed to go and come of their own free will and accord, and shall be accorded all the rights, privileges, immunities and exemptions which are accorded to the citizens and subjects of the most favored nation." (Treaties and Conventions, 1776-1887, page 182.)

The United States commissioners, in communicating, under date of November 6, 1880, to the Secretary of State, Mr. Evarts, their agreement with the Chinese commissioners, said, among other things:

"We desired, as you will see by the precis of the negotiations, to define with more precision exactly what all the negotiators on both sides understood by 'Chinese laborers,' but the Chinese government was very unwilling the process of the negotiations to the chinese contents was very unwilling to the record of the negotiations.

the negotiators on both sides understood by 'Chinese laborers,' but the Chinese government was very unwilling to be more precise than the absolute necessity called for, and they claimed that in article 2 they did by exclusion provide that nobody should be entitled to claim the benefit of the general provisions of the Burlingame treaty but those who went to the United States for the purpose of teaching, study, mercantile transactions, travel or curiosity. We have no doubt that an act of Congress excluding all but these classes, using the words of the treaty, would be fully warranted by its provisions, and as this was a clear and sufficient modification of the sixth article of the Burlingame treaty, we do not feel authorized to risk such a concession by insisting upon language which would really mean no more and which was entirely unacceptable to the Chinese commissioners. There is not in the treaty any language which modifies this concession, and there is not, as we think, the sightest intention on the part of the full force of the discretior given to the United States." (id. page 189.)

As finally drafted and agreed upon the words "Chinese laborers" were not defined, and so their true meaning in the treaty, as in the statute, is a maiter for construction.

The history of the negotiations, as already detailed, leading up to the making of the treaty, clearly shows that throughout them the United States commissioners insisted that the words "Chinese laborers" should include all immigration other than that for teaching, trade, travel, study and curlosity. The first proposal on the part of the United States commissioners so to define them in the treaty itself met on the part of the Chinese commissioners not a refusal, but this response: "The separation of this class from the mass of the subjects of China in this manner is not in strict accord with the spirit of our treaties, and in practical operation would meet, with many difficulties. But bearing in mind the deep friendship between the two nations, in the event of embarrassments on either part, a solution must be sought in a spirit of mutual concession." This was followed by a proposal on the part of the Chinese commissioners of articles in which the word "actual" was inserted immediately before the words "Chinese laborers," and inserting the word "artisans" among the privileged classes. These suggestions met with distinct refusals on the part of the United States commissioners, and both of those words were omitted from the treaty as SOCIAL RECORD. IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

The reception was tendered as a compliment to Miss Neally Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Petersilea and E. H. Clark, and was the means of bringing together socially nearly the entire great number of musical artists for which this city is noted. The guestic including many from Passadena and other near-by cities, filled the conservatory hall, the pariors, dressing-rooms and corridors, so that there was nardly room for nearly two hours. But there was a pleasing informality and interchange of greetings, which, with a delightful programme of entertainment, made time pass swiftly.

Mr. Petersilea joins the Los Angeles musical fraternity with a pleasing record. His reputation in Boston as a plano virtuoso and teacher covers in period of many years, and the fact that he has opened a musical studio in the Y.M.C.A. building and is contracting for a home at Glendale, serves to give him anchorage in Southern California. He purposes giving some fine recitals here during the season. Mr. and Mrs. Petersilea have come direct from London to this Coast.

E. H. Clark, a young musician with many gifts, has also arrived recently to make Southern California his home. laborers," and inserting the word "artisans" among the privileged classes. These suggestions met with distinct refusals on the part of the United States commissioners, and both of those words were omitted from the treaty as finally agreed upon, signed and ratified. Their insertion would have given the words "Chinese laborers" the ordinary and poular meaning of laborers as defined by the lexicographers, towit, those engaged in hard, manual work. Their omission under the circumstances stated clearly shows that it was intended that they should have a broader meaning. Moreover, had the intention been to confine the words "Chinese laborers" to those engaged in hard, manual work, the inhibition would have applied to none other, and there would have been no occasion to make a specific provision, as was done by article 2, for the coming to this country of teachers, students, merchants, or those for curiosity, together with their body and household servants. There was, therefore, good ground for the claim, reported by the United States commissioners to have been made by the Chinese commissioners, to the effect that article 2 of the treaty as agreed upon "... by exclusion provide that nobody should be entitled to claim the benefit of the general provisions of the Burlingame treaty but those who went to the United States for purposes of teaching, study, mercantile transactions, travel or curiosity." Read, therefore, in the light of the accompanying proceedings, it is clear that the words "Chinese laborers" employed in the treaty of 1890 are not limited to those who do hard, manual work, but that they are broad enough in their true meaning and intent to include Chinese gamblers and "high-binders;" and, for the reasons already given, it is manifest that Congress in passing the act of May 5, 1892, did not use the words "Chinese laborers" in any narrower sense than were the same words in the treaty under which it was legislating.

Mrs. Kempton is from the Grand Operahouse at Milan and of the English opera in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Her tutelage has been under the most celebrated instructors of Milan, Florence, Paris and London, and she has achieved marked success in opera, oratorio and concert, both in Europe and America.

Miss Jennie Kempton, who has been four times in Europe, and under musical instruction with Vannuchi in Florence. Sangiovani in Milan and Mmela. Grange and Delle Sedia in Paris, has a very high and clear soprano voice, and sings beautifully and with great expression.

Such a gathering as that of last evening cannot fail to advance the musical interests of the city.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

FUTURE POLICY.

It will be noticed that to obtain a clear idea of the opinion it must be read in full. The reasoning is sound, and comprehensive, and carries out what The Times has always contended for. Much credit is due Dist-Atty. Denis for the able manner in which he has supported the government's side of the case. The reports of the conferences held between the American and Chinese commissioners in 1880, in which the term "laborer" is used, and on which Judge Ross mainly based his opinion, were very difficult to obtain, but Mr. Denis was satisfied that his contention was maintained therein, and accordingly went to considerable trouble and expense to bring them before the court.

After the opinion was handed down, many citizens who had been in the courtroom congratulated the District Attorney on his success. Mr. Denis was seen later by a Times reporter, and asked what the policy of his office will be after this latest decision. The District Attorney unhesitatingly replied that his course hereafter would be to limit as much as possible the arrests to the Chinese criminal classes.

Judge Ross's decision not only concerns Ah Fawn, but five other high-binders, whose cases were also under advisement. All six were ordered deported.

Most Papular Lady Forester.
The main contest at the Foresters' fete day at Redondo Saturday was for the handsome gold watch to be voted to the most popular lady Forester. Many voted "early and often." There were many conjectures as to the result of the ballot. On opening the box it showed a very beavy vote and when showed a very heavy vote, and when counted, Mrs. C. L. Wilde, wife of Deputy Clerk Wilde, had a handsome majority, and was presented with the watch, in a very neat speech, by the chairman of the committee, W. H.

chairman of the committee, W. H. Perry of Redondo.

Mrs. Wilde was so taken by surprise that at first she could not understand; but, after matters were explained, she returned her thanks.

Sunday, the 17th, was devoted to getting better acquainted, and attending service in Foresters' Hall, where Rev. Brother A. W. Rider delivered one of his characteristic sermons on "Fraternity as Embraced in the Doctrines of Christianity."

FOR INSTRUCTIONS.

The Commissioner Wants Further Orders.

Now the Cable Property Should Be Sold.

A Question Raised Regarding the Recelver's Certificates.

City Bank Officials to Appear for Arraignmen on September 25-Divorces Granted by the Superior Judges-Court Notes-The Calendar.

When Judge Van Dyke convened court yesterday afternoon, in Depart-ment Four, the space inside the rail was filled with attorneys, nearly all of whom represented the parties in interest to the case of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank vs. the Pacific Railway Company. The legal gentlemen had gathered in response to a notice re-quiring their presence in court at the hearing of the petition of Commissioner Thomas, who was appointed to make the sale of the cable property, asking for further instructions regarding the

When the news that a hearing was to be had was given out on Sunday, all sorts of baseless rumors about the re-ceivership and foreclosure proceedings were set afloat, all of which were ut-without foundation.

Thomas, in order to make doubly sure of his ground and settle beyond a doubt by order of court several points arising through the different under-standing of the various counsel, made the application for instructions yester-day. At that time Judge Van Dyke was day. At that time Judge Van Dyke was not prepared to take up the matter, owing to other causes which were pending and set for trial, so, after the petition had been read, he ordered that hearing be postponed until this morning at 9 o'clock.

The substance of the petition presented by Commissioner Thomas is as follows:

sented by Commissioner Thomas is as follows:

"The petitioner is informed, and believes, that, when the decree of foreclosure in this order was made and signed, there were pending in the Supreme Court certain appeals from the Superior Court from the orders of said court authorizing and directing the issuance and payment of all of the receiver's certificates declared to be a lien upon said mortgaged property.

"That the decree of foreclosure provides that, as to all certificates mentioned in said decree concerning which appeals had been taken, or were pending, the sale should be made subject to the lien of said certificates, and the purchaser of the mortgaged property should pay the same in the event that they are finally held to be valid.

"That he is informed, and believes, that, since the making of said decree, some of said appeals so taken from said orders have been finally dismissed by the Supreme Court, and are no longer pending.

"That he is informed, and believes, that a noneal has been taken to the the Supreme Court, and are no longer pending.

"That he is informed, and believes, that an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court from so much of the decree of foreclosure in this action as determines the validity of said receiver's certificates, and declargs them to be a lien, or prior lien, upog said mortgaged premises. That said appeal is still pending in the Supreme Court, and copies of the notice of appeal and undertakings given.

"That a writ of enforcement upon the decree has been issued to the petitioner directing him to sell said mortgaged property and apply the proceeds thereof, as directed by said decree, and that October 4 is fixed for the sale of said mortgaged property.

"That controversies have arisen and now exist as to the proper construction of said decree of foreclosure as far

"That controversies have arisen and now exist as to the proper construction of said decree of foreclosure as far as it refers to the sale of the mortgaged property subject to the lien of said certifictates and the application of the proceeds of the sale, to be made by him to the payment thereof; is to the powers and duties of the commissioner in the premises, and as to the legal effect of said appeal from the part of the decree of foreclosure before mentioned. It is contended by the holders of the receiver's certificates that the decree makes it the duty of the commissioner to sell the mortgaged property for the pay-it the duty of the commissioner to sell the mortgaged property for the payment of the certificates; and by the other parties to the action it is contended that the property must be sold subject to the lien of the certificates, whether appeals are anding or not, and that the certificates must be paid by the purchasers, and not otherwise. "The holders of the certificates further claim that the appeal taken from that part of the decree declaring said certificates a lien, etc., does not stay the proceedings as to the enforcing of the payment of said certificates. While the other parties to said action claim that said appeal, as taken, operates as supersedeas and stays all proceedings as to said certificates, except that the mortgaged property must be sold subject to the lien, should the certificates be finally adjudged to be a lien. "The petitioner states that some of the questions arising are judicial, and not within his power or duty to determine; as to other matters, he is in doubt as to how said decree is to be construed, and he is not certain as to what is his duty in the premises, except to apply to the court for further direction."

The divorce case of H. C. Jackson vs. Mary Jackson came up in Department Two yesterday afternoon before Judge Clark for trial, the decree being granted by default. Jackson said on the stand that he lived at Redondo. He had been married about nine years, but for the past two years had not been living happily with his wife, who declared that she would live with him no longer. The two had occupied the same house up to within three weeks ago with their children, but lived in different rooms. Mrs. Jackson had given no reason for her conduct, except that she no longer cared for her husband, saying that she was desirous of separating from him.

The wife did not appear in court, so Judge Clark ordered that the decree go by default, the couple to arrange between themselves regarding the custody of the children.

THE EAST SIDE.

Arrival of the Challenge Cup-Musical Entertainment.

There will be a musical entertainment given under the auspices of the ladies of Epiphany Guild at the Congregational Church this evening. A choice programme, comprising vocal and instrumental numbers by artists of high-local standing, has been prepared, and the ladies expect a well-filled house.

The $250-challenge cup offered by the East Side Cycling Club to the winners in the coming twenty-five-mile team race has arrived, and is on exhibition at White's, No. 613 Downey avenue. It is a beauty, and the local club will make a strong effort to win it for the adornment of its own clubrooms.

Mrs. Walters, wife of First Engineer C. W. Walters of the Downey avenue power-house, is expected home today from the East, where she has been attending the World's Fair and visiting friends for a couple of months past.

Ivan R. Moore of the Los Angeles and San Francisco division railway mail service was in town yesterday visiting his mother and family on North Sichel street. He has just obtained a leave of absence for a month, and leaves Oakland on Wednesday for Chicago and his old home in Topeka, Kan. Arrival of the Challenge Cup-Musica Entertainment.

A LL a merchant needs to do is to advertise. Let the people know what he has to sell; advertise it in a straightforward, sensible way; describe the goods as accurately as possible and the public will come. It is only a question of confidence. Yesterday was a demonstration of the power of advertising; it proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that advertising is the stepping stone to business, it is the key-note. Yesterday the house was crowded; when we say crowded we mean crowded. The Silk Convention is a success, it is a drawing card, it brings the erowds, it advertises that famous Dress Goods Department, it gains prestige. More new Silk Velvets-those choice shades that are so very scarce; anything in shades of green, they are all extra good; the different shades of heliotrope, they are still better; the tans, fawn and mode shades; the brilliant reds, shading from the brighter to the richer hues of the majentas. Those rare plum colorings are all here. A few weeks ago the velvet factories were closed; people became frightened; today there is a positive scarcity of the choice shades. One of the largest velvet factories in the world write they "can only partially fill order on velvets, the balance will be shipped in 30 days." There is a revival of business and the women of American have brought it about. Visit the famous Dress Goods Department for moderate-priced goods; it is choice effects at a reasonable price; moderate-priced dress goods, the kind that people are buying. More of those Stockings, worth 60c, worth 50c, worth 35c, worth 25c, now two pairs for 15c, or four pairs for 25c; they are going, only a few more left. The accumulation of odds and ends is worse than a savings bank with a six months' notification attached to it; it locks up capital, it is the rock that many a shrewd merchant has been grounded upon; these slow sellers must be turned into active sellers. When you see a well-dressed lady on the street with a perfect fitting dress you can rest assured she has on a Royal Worcester Corset. The best trade in the city wear the Royal Worcester Corset; Ladies who have been wearing corset waists have tried the Royal Worcester Corset and have felt no inconvenience in wearing them. We recommend having your corsets fitted by Royal Worcester fitters; when once you have your corset fitted you can always buy the same style number. The Royal Worcester stands side by side with the best French made corset. The Cloak trade is creeping up—one price, best light, best styles, square treatment. Have you visited the Silk Con-

City Council Meets in Regular Session.

The Work of Paving Colorado Street Ha People Coming and Going-

The City Council met in regular session at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. President Weed presided, and all the trustees were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

All bills filed to date were referred to the Committee on Auditing and Finance without reading.

The Auditing Committee recommended the payment of bills to the amount of $225.40, which report was approved and the necessary warrants ere ordered drawn.

Trustee Clark reported that work looking to the paving of Colorado street had been begun between Fair Oaks avenue and Delacy street.

M. H. Weight 'was appointed ina salary of $50 a month.

Capt. C. M. Simpson addressed the board relative to the bad condition of certain crossings on North Marengo avenue, particularly the Santa Fe Railroad crossing. The gutter at the intersection of Marengo avenue and Pearl street was also referred to as demanding attention. The Street Superintendent was instructed to notify the railway, company to lay proper culmanding attention. The Street Superintendent was instructed to notify the railway company to lay proper culverts at the intersection of Marengo avenue and the track.

A resolution was adopted ordering T.
S. C. Lowe, owner of the street railway between the west line of Delacy street and the west line of Delacy street and the west line of Fair Oaks avenue, to pave between the track and on two feet each side thereof, in accordance with specifications provided for paving the remainder of the street. Seventy days from September 14 was given within which to complete the work.
Resolutions to the same effect with reference to the Colorado Street Railway Company's tracks between the east line of Fair Oaks and the west line of Raymond, and to the tracks of the other companies crossing Colorado on Fair Oaks and Raymond, were presented, but action was deferred, pending an effort to have the tracks placed in the middle of the street.
Resolutions of intention were passed to pave the intersections of Colorado street with Raymond and Fair Oaks avenues, which work is not provided for in the specifications.

The matter of the proposed electric street railway franchise was discussed, but no action was taken.

An ordinance was passed granting an extension of two years' time from September 26 in which to complete and operate an electric road over the territory covered by its line, on the express conditions that the line from Columbia to Chestrut street he so operated with-tory covered by its line, on the express conditions that the line from Columbia to Chestnut street be so operated within that period; that a single track be laid between Union and Kansas streets; that the company file with the city a bond in the sum of $2000 for the faithful performance of such work, and that it file its acceptance of the conditions of the ordinance on or before September 25.

A petition, representing a frontage of 1962 feet on North Moline avenue, between Colorado street and the Santa Fe crossing, was presented asking that such portion of that street be graded, curbed and guttered with cobblestones and lined with cement sidewalks. The prayer of the petitioners was, on motion, granted, and a resolution of intention passed to that effect. City Engineer Sedwick submitted a report relative to a certain fence on city Engineer sedwick submitted a report relative to a certain fence on Little avenue, which, it is alleged, extends beyond the street line. The matter was referred to the City Attorney. Health Officer Sherk was granted one week's leave of absence.

The San Bernardino High School opened Monday under very favorable auspices. The attendance upon the opening day was 210, being 30 per cent. over last year's attendance. When Prof. W. Scott Thomas appeared, he greeted with a round of hearty applause from the students, most of whom are acquainted with him, and with whom he is very popular. The school now offers three courses of study—the general, the academic, and the business courses-into each of which the feature of electives has been introduced, making it possible for the scholars to embrace in their respective courses a wide range of studies, or to centralize their efforts upon a more limited number or restricted course of studies. Orange Growers Joining the Fruit Exchange
-The Public Schools. If all the orange-growers of this val-ley are as prompt to become members of the Pomona Fruit Exchange as the growers of the Kingsley tract, the suc cess of the scheme in this part of the country is assured. There is practically no opposition at all. The Kingsley Tract Association, a branch of the Fruit Exchange, held a meeting Sat-urday afternoon in the Kingsley schoolhouse. C. Esterly was elected manager. A Committee on Resolutions was appointed, and an adjourned meet-ing called for next Saturday at 2 p.m. The committee in charge of the matter The committee in charge of the matter of obtaining signatures, report that the only opposition at all is a desire to know more of the workings of the organizations. About forty growers in the tract have already signed, and the Pomona Fruit Exchange is, an assured success, the way things look at present.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. If there is any one thing of which the people of this city are justly proud, it is the public schools. It would be hard to imagine a busier scene than hard to imagine a busier scene than the one around the two handsome new buildings Montay morning. Men and women, big boys and little ones, young ladies and little girls, buggies and horses, all combined to make things lively. It was the day the schools opened. The students were all soon put to work under the efficient management of the principal Profi. Molyneaux. There is a much larger attendance this year than last. It was found that at 9 o'clock there was an actual attendance of 767 pupils. By the end of the week this number will be swelled to fully 1000. The school system of Pomona may be said to be almost perfect. POMONA BREVITIES.

The Citizens' Water Company allowed the City Engineer to measure the flow of water in the pipes yesterday morning. It amounted to a total of about eighty-five inches. In E. Packard thought it would run to fully 104 inches. The eighty-five inches of water is a good flow, but the question will now arise, how much can the city get of that flow, and who, owns the other interests in it? These questions will be decided at the next mass-meating. The stockholders say they have nothing to withhold, and in fact, as making a clear and open proposition. The measurements will be presented to the Council this evening.

Pomona has a friendly rivalry among its business men, which is undoubtedly a good thing for the city. They are designated as "West-enders" and "East-enders" Just now it behooves the East-enders to come to time. The West-enders bave band concerts every other Saturday evening, and have caused to be put at Second and Gordon, a splendid are light. It suggests that two more would light Second street. The East-enders could place one at Second and Thomas, which the electricalight people, being located there, ought to be "in" on. One at Second and Ellen would also be a great institution. THAT POSTOFFICE MATTER.

The postoffice situation was the principal topic of conversation on the streets Monday morning, after The Times had been received and circulated in Sahta Ana. What is considered the present status of affairs, was a surprise to the general public, for it has been considered all along by the masses of the patrons of the office, and of the people generally, that the candidacy of Mr. Maccabe was more in the line of a huge joke than anything else. The signers to his petition, many of them, are now free to admit that they did not think Mr. Maccabe a likely candidate when he presented his petition to them, consequently they signed it just to humor his fancy, and to get rid of him. But, now, what was once considered a joke is, from all appearances, about to become a realization, and, if the other candidates are not up and doing at once, they are apt to be distanced in the race by the candidate who has heretofore been considered by the people generally as a mere figurehead. In order to realize, in a way, the leverage that Mr. Maccabe has over the other candidates, it will only be necessary to know that the gentleman of the legal profession, who is strongly supporting him, has had enough of a pull with the administration to place Mrs. Gardner, who is his wife's mother, in the Anaheim postoffice. It is, however, largely for the people to make their wishes known in the matter of a selection of a postmaster, and, if they are negligent in the matter, they then have lost their right to protest after the appointment has been given out, if a mistake has been made.

TWO CROPS IN A YEAR.

I. Baker of Tustin has left a sample of corn at the Orange county World's Fair headquarters, to be forwarded to Chicago, which is worthy of special mention. In the first place the ground from which the corn was raised was sown to barley, January 4, 1893. On May 10 the grain which, by the way, made a heavy crop, was harvested. Immediately after this the ground was again plowed and planted to corn. Today the crop shows up magnificently, the yield promising to be from 100 to 125 bushels to the acre. On September 15, Mr. Baker took up a few hills of the corn and brought it into the city to send to Chicago, with the other exhibits from this county. The stalks measure 16½ feet, each of which has from two to four large, well-formed ears from 8 to 16 inches in length. Upon the placard attached to one of the stalks is the oft-quoted and familiar phrase to Californians at least, "Raised without irrigation."

R. R. REASSESSMENT

The Southern Pacific Will Now Pay

Back Taxes Due the State and Counties.

The Corporation Wants to Retire This Question.

Los Angeles One of the Countles Holding a Tax Claim Against the Company--Settlement to Be Made in November.

The San Francisco Examiner of Sun-

The San Francisco Examiner of Sunday says that the Southern Pacific Company is anxious to settle the back taxes due the State and various counties. H. E. Huntington, assistant to the president of the Kentucky corporation, is quoted as saying:

"We want to get those back taxes ettled. We want to get that questly behind us, and now that there is a chance for legal adjustment, we will embrace the opportunity. We believe we were unjustly taxed, and that is why we appealed to the courts gnd to the Legislature. The outcome has shown that our position was warranted by the facts."

and to the Legislature. The outcome has shown that our position was warranted by the facts."

The Examiner article further says:
"E. Black Ryan, the Southdrn Pacific's tax agent, was busy yesterday on calculations in regard to the reassessment settlements. Each year has to be figured out separately, and the clerical work is considerable. In addition to the $960,000 or $1,000,000 to be paid the State next November there will be a great many thousands of dollars to be paid to the various counties in the State. The amount that each shall receive is not yet snown, as some legal questions must be determined before the county payments can be adjusted.
"The following counties hold tax clatms against the company: Alameda, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Colusa, Contra Costa, El Dorado, Fresno, Glenn, Kern, Los Angeles, Mendocino, Merced, Monterey, Napa, Nevada, Orange, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, San Benardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra, Sisklyou.
"I was interested in the reminis-

Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou.

"I was interested in the reminiscences recalled by the Examiner in relation to last winter's legislative proceedings,' said Mr. Ryan. 'Assemblyman Matthews of Tehama was right when he said that under the provisions of the Scawell Reassessment Act the railroad company could not be compelled to pay a cent. We could beat the law in the courts if we wanted to do so. But we will not try it. The fact is the Southern Pacific is tired of being the lower plank in political platforms, and is anxious to effect a settlement being the lower plank in political platforms, and is anxious to effect a settlement.

"It is not true, as has been suggested in some quarters, that the reassessment law will bring any of the counties in debt to the company. During some of the years for which the reassessment is authorized, we paid many of the counties in full on excessive valuations. It may be, under the reassessment, that some of those years will show an excess of taxes paid by us. In such case, that excess, we think, should be placed to our credit on some other year when we may be short.

"In the twenty-fourth Northwestern Reporter, page 947, will be found a decision of the United States Supreme Court in which it is held that where payment of taxes has been made, reassessment taxation cannot be enforced until the amount so paid has been returned to the taxpayer.

"In our case such course can be obviated by crediting our overpayments to years where we may have run under the amount due. This plan is fully indorsed by and intended to be so operative under the reassessment act. When we overpaid it was because the property was assessed for more than it ought to have been assessed, as is tacitly admitted by the reassessment.

"The Southern Pacific feels that the reassessment is fairly reasonable, and will accept that as a basis of settlement. It would probably pay any way, if too much injustice were not attempted, for the purpose of retiring the back-tax question from public discussion.

"There is no question in my mind but that the Eederal franchism.

"There is no question in my mind but that the Federal franchises were assessed as elements of value to both the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads, no matter what is said to the contrary, from 1880 to 1887 inclusive. After the decision of the United States Supreme Court, in 1887, these Foderal franchises were eliminated from the assessment list, leaving such elements of value as ought to have been assessed. The representatives of the company held that the Federal franchises ought not to have been assessed. In this they have been assessed. In this they have been sustained by the highest court in the land and by the State authorities. That is why the company is ready to make the sottlement on the basis offered by the State and counties.

"Atty.-Gen. Hart, yesterday said he was glad to learn that the Southern Pacific Company has decided to quittighting against the back taxes. This will dispose of all the years except 1886 and 1887, said the Attorney-General. The taxes for 1886 will be reassessed next year. The 1887 taxes are before the Supreme Court. If the assessment is declared valid the company will be required to pay; if illegal the next Legislature will provide for a reassessment, and when that is paid the trouble will be over." the Central Pacific and the Southern Pa-

A NIGHT WITH RATTLERS.

Terrible Experience of a Tent Showman Whose Pets Had Broken Out. A New Castle (Pa.) special to the Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "David Baxter came here from Forest county with a box containing about a dozen rattlesnakes of all sizes and ages. He had a little tent and exhibited the rephad a little tent and exhibited the rep-tiles for money at the county fair. Late last night Baxter went to sleep on the side of the tent opposite the box of ratlesnakes. Some time after midnight he was awakened by some-thing crawling across his face. He, clutched his horse blanket cover and drew it over his face. The movement seemed to disturb a number of other snakes that had escaped, and in a moment the little tent was ringing with the rattles of the serpents.

"Baxter screamed for help, but as he dare not uncover his head, his voice was muffled under the heavy blanket. He could feel them crawling over him, the weight of the big ones being very noticeable. He was half smothered, and trying to keep himself covered with the blanket, he began "worming" his way toward what he thought was the loosened flap of the tent's entrance. Instead of reaching the entrance? Baxter rolled against the box from which the snakes had escaped. The reptiles that had not left it came out, rattling down upon him. After two hours of maneuvering the man got behind the box and worked it into position across one corner of the square tent. Behind this barrieade, with the rattlers in constant action, he managed to get out his knife, cut the canvas, and throwing off the blanket, flung himself into the open air, where he fell into a swoon. Before daybreak the rattle-snakes in the tent were captured by cutting a hole in one corner and driving them through it into a bex.

STEWART CAUGHT.

The Deficit Increasing.

Arthur I. Stewart, the absconding deputy of the Street Superintendent, has been captured, and will be brought deputy of the Street Superintendent, has been captured, and will be brought back to the city. He was caught at El Paso, Tex., by Chief of Police Fink of that place, who had been notified by Chief Glass to keep a lookout for the young man. It was stated that about $600 was found in Stewart's possession. Requisition papers have been applied for, and Detective Auble will leave this morning for the prisoner.

It is now believed that the total amount of Stewart's posulations will approximate $3000. It was stated about the City Hall yesterday that Stewart some ten days ago made a remark to a confidant that he was short $2500. This, however, was probably an exaggeration, but, as a matter of fact, it will be some days before the full amount can be ascertained. Expert Davis continued his investigations yesterday; when a further shortage of $300 was found. It is the custom when contractors make deposits on street work to give a receipt retaining the stub, and it is believed that in some instances Stewart took this money, pocketed it and gave a receipt, but failed to fill out the stub. If this has been done, the amount cannot be learned until the contractors present their receipts and demand their deposits.

As usual, in such cases, it has developed that there is a woman in the case, a frail, young woman on Alameda street, with whom Stewart became infatuated, and this led to his downfall.

E. E. Schaffer, secretary of the Democratic City Central Committee, said last night that when Stewart was first appointed deputy he (Schaffer) called a meeting of the Executive Committee to protest against this recognition of a comparative stranger, when so many of the hard-workers of the party were competent and willing to fill the position. When, however, it was represented that J. Marion Brooks and Gen.

E. E. Hewitt had indorsed Stewart, the committee took no action, and decided to keep "hands off."

J. Marion Brooks, Esq., appeared be-fore the Council and read the following communication from the Street Super-

"I regret to report that my chief depintendent:

"I regret to report that my chief deputy has been absent from the city since last Friday, with no clew whatever to his whereabouts. There is an apparent shortage in the funds of the office of about $1700$. I can only say, that, should this prove a defalcation, as I now fear, the sum will be immediately made good by myself."

Mr. Brooks stated that he understood that it had been reported that he recommended Mr. Stewart to the position. In reference to this, he wished to say that Mr. Stewart was from one of the best families, and had come with the best of recommendations. He (Brooks) investigated as to Mr. Stewart's character, and satisfied himself as to the young man's standing. He believed that Mr. Stewart was honest when he came into the office, and his efficiency had been well proven. His honesty, however, had failed. He had been led into bad associations, and had brought this disgrace upon himself and his friends.

In the matter of the application of Sells & Rentfrow, asking that the license ordinance be so amended that shows with a seating capacity not exceeding 1500 people may pay a license less than $500 per day, I have to report that the ordinance may be so amended if the Council desires. Filed.

In the matter of the petition of H.

Glaze, I report that Glaze brought suit against the city to collect pay for overtime alleged to have been required of him as one of the keepers of the city jail. The case was decided in his favor in the justice's court, and was immediately appealed by me to the Superior Court in order that we may get the question determined whether or not a person employed by the city at a fixed salary per month, can collect for all time employed in excess of eight hours per day. This is a matter of great importance, involving, a large sum of money, and should be determined by the higher courts. Adopted.

Lewis B. Reed has brought suit against the city to quiet title to lots 9 and 10 in block 1, of the C. M. Wells tract. These lots are a portion of the Hoover tract, in regard to which I have heretofore reported that the city has no claim, and for that reason I respectfully recommend that I be instructed to disclaim on behalf of the city in this action. Adopted.

I report herewith an ordinance providing for the appointment of a meat inspector, and defining his duties. Laid over till afternoon.

CITY ENGINEER'S REPORT.

The City Engineer reported.

In the matter of the estimate of the cost of building a levee along the east bank of the Los Angeles River from the Santa Fe bridge 1100 feet northerly so as to protect the stockyards, etc., I have the honor to report that the estimate, plans and specifications will be ready the coming week.

I beg leave to call your attention to the width of the sidewalks on Commercial street, east of Alameda street, a part of the walk having been laid seven feet in width and another portion eight feet. I would recommend that the width be established at eight feet. I would recommend that the width be established at eight feet. This will also save a number of shade trees. Adopted.

Ordinance of intention to grade, gravel and otherwise improve Hoover street between Sixteenth and Washington streets. Board of Public Works.

Ordinance of intention to establish the grade of Third street between Breed and Soto streets. Passed.

Ordinance of intention to establish the grade of Star street between Pico and Sixteenth streets. Passed.

The engineer further reported in reference to the petition of G. W. Tubbs and others in regard to the grade of Washington street between San Pedro street and Central avenue, in which they claimed that the work on Washington street did not conform to the official grade. The report stated that it had been found to have sunk where it had been constructed on a fill, and in another instance the official grade. In one instance the work had been given for a cement walk, but the same had never been checked, or at least no certificate had been issued from the office showing the street to be on grade.

Councilman Munson moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to
